Clifton Chamber Scoring System:

1. Number of points
2. Inside spread
3. Longest tine from main beam
4. Measurement of both bases
5. Longest main beam
6. Tie Breaker will be as follows—Number of points, inside spread, longest tine from main beam, measurement of both bases, longest main beam, and finally, coin flip.
   A. Number of Points—no points will be counted that are less than 1 inch from the base. Points between the brow tine and the base will not be counted.
   B. Inside Spread of Main Beam—is measured at a right angle to the centerline of the widest point between main beams.
   C. Longest Tine from Main Beam—Will be the longest tine measured from its base off the main beam.
   D. Measurement of both Bases—Measurement of the right and left antler bases will be calculated between base and the first point.
   E. Measure circumference between G2 & G3 on both antlers sides.
   F. Longest Main Beam—The length of the main beam is measured from the outside edge of the base to the tip on the main beam. The line of measurement will go along the outside of the antler. The measurement will start on the back of the base of the antler.
   G. All measurements will be rounded to the closest 1/8th inch.
   H. If any part of the antler that is broken off then the detached portion will not be eligible to be measured.
